The special objection is to the

NARROW ESCAPE OF PASSENGERS NEAR PASADENA

Twenty persons were injured, one seriously, when a Los Angeles-bound train on the Pasadena Short Line collided with a train of empty cars which was pulling into the Pacific Electric car barns on South Fair Oaks avenue, just below the Raymond Hotel, about 8 o'clock last night. Henry Fisher of Los Angeles was the only man to be severely hurt, and he was taken to the Pasadena Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a broken nose and a sprained back.

Others injured were:

F. S. Conger, 125 Bruce avenue, Pasadena.

J. M. Heffelfinger, 1208 Grand avenue, Pasadena.

George McKey, Hotel Green, Pasadena.

W. O. Grady, 1273 Kensington avenue, Pasadena.

J. G. Rossiter, 106 Bellefontaine avenue, Pasadena.

J. R. McLain, 1291 Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles.

Y. Sato, P. O. Box No 287, Pasadena.

A few hours later Alfred Galt, a retired banker from Minneapolis, and his son, Ellis, of 1932 North Michigan avenue, Pasadena, were injured when a Lamanda Park car of the Pacific Electric collided with the car's automobile near the Pasadena High School.

Motorman Dewey Solomon of the Short Line train stated that he did not see the empties on the track until too late to stop. He says a limousine kept on the rails in front of him, shutting out his view till the machine swerved aside to avoid the cars. In addition, he states, the glass in front of his car was rain-splashed and his vision obscured. The conductor on the car was H. H. Hydenrieth. Motorman M. O'Donnell and Conductor Walter Ellledge formed the crew which was putting the empty cars into the barns.

CAILLAUX ON THE STAND.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—That he had never championed a policy of close relations with Germany, but one of "European conciliation," and might have been guilty of imprudence and impulsiveness, but never of intelligence with the enemy, was the opening defense of Joseph Caillaux, former Premier, charged with treasonable dealings with the enemy, on resumption of his trial today before the Senate, sitting as a high court.

The examination of M. Caillaux covered his trip to South America late in 1914 and early in 1915. The name of James Minotto, son-in-law of Louis P. Sargent, was mentioned in the United States as an enemy alien in 1915, was frequently mentioned throughout the interrogation by Leon Bourgeois, president of the Senate. M. Caillaux asserted he had been fooled by Minot-to, as had numerous others, he said had every reason to believe

Minotto was respectable, he said.

He had been vouched for by many prominent Frenchmen. He declared

he was introduced to Minotto by

Edwin V. Morgan, American Ambassador at Rio de Janeiro.

M. Caillaux declared Minotto was one of the numerous spies who in-fectured his trail while in South America, the German Minister of Rio de Janeiro, fearing the result of M. Caillaux's efforts, having requested Berlin to place 100,000

marks at his disposal to have M.

Caillaux shadowed continually.

"Experts will tell you I have not profited by the war; I am a poor man now that I was in 1914," declared M. Caillaux after reading a letter from Edmund de Oliveira, who was delegated by the Brazilian

Ministry of Foreign Affairs to his visit to Brazil. In the letter de Oliveira, stated M. Caillaux had always been a great patriot and hoped for the final victory of France.

The roll call of witnesses caused the first clash between the defense and the prosecution, when Theodore

Lascaux, Prosecutor of the Republic, informed the court that the Italian witnesses would be summoned through a diplomatic channel. M.

Moutet, of counsel for M. Caillaux, asked whether Chief of Police Wilson had been notified.

GERMANS ANGLE FOR RED TRADE

Plan to Send Commission to Soviet Russia.

Government is Backing Move, Report in Berlin.

Radical Representative Opens Office for Exporters.

BY RAYMOND SWING.

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—German industrial leaders are planning to send a commission to Soviet Russia, it has become known here, to study the problem of resuming trade relations between Germany and Russia. It is even reported that this commission will proceed under the auspices of the German government and that its chairman will be a prominent socialist, formerly in the Cabinet, but the Berlin Herald is informed from a good source that this is not true.

ENTIRELY INDUSTRIAL.

The commission will not have a political character, but will be composed entirely of industrial representatives. It is more than a coincidence that this plan is being launched immediately after the arrival in Berlin of Victor Kopp, who has opened offices in the residential district in a Berlin suburb and is ostensibly negotiating with the government here for an exchange of prisoners. His real mission is to bring about the resumption of trade.

Many reports are in circulation as to the underlying significance of this visit. One of the most interesting is that the British means nothing more comprehensive than sending Russia with detailed articles, many of them luxuries, such as chocolate, Russia, however, is in need of agricultural implements and machinery, which the Russian powers are not able to supply.

TRI-PARTITE TRADE PLAN.

A triple trade relationship, embracing Russia, Germany and the United States, is proposed, in which America will furnish tractor and railroad material and Germany the machinery, while Russia opens her resources of raw material to both countries. The Soviet trade policy is said to be to accept foreign aid only so far as the foreigners restrict their sales to such articles as have a productive value in Russia. Russia will ask America for 10,000 tractors and also deep plows and she is confident that she can pay for them by increased crops in two seasons. Russia's economic problem is to tide the nation over a season of production so that she can pay the peasants for food with articles that the peasants need.

SOVIET COUNTER MOVE.

Efforts to destroy the Soviet influence by bringing in comfort goods which the peasants have been deprived has led the Soviet government to adopt the counter course of giving aid to foreign countries and to help on its own terms. The Soviet expects to keep the country well in hand or the present attitude of the industrial and the WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The position of the American government on the Adriatic settlement has been made plain in President Wilson's reply to the Allied note that administration officials believe the way to further argument on the subject virtually has been closed.

It was said, however, that by this they did not mean the door to further exchanges had been shut. Further, a contrary reply to the President's latest communication is anticipated, and a final agreement between the great powers on the vexing question expected.

The President is understood to have made it perfectly clear that the United States cannot accept the settlement unless the United States is satisfied with the settlement.

It was stated officially that the question of giving publicity to the exchange would wait on the delivery of the President's note, and the acquiescence of the other governments.

Although the Premier has forwarded to Jugo-Slavia in the form of an ultimatum the settlement arrived at without the participation of the United States, it is said that he has not closed the way to a return to the Paris agreement of December 15, which the United States was a party.

In the general belief here they have not overlooked suggestions that the American government point the way to the carrying out of an agreement which Italy holds to be unacceptable.

Officially he plainly did not regard the situation as at all acute, nor do they believe a condition will be reached in which the United States will have to consider whether it can become a party to the settlement.

LANSING FILM HERO, BUT BRYAN HISS.

Will File Name of Edwards as a Candidate.

Wet New Jersey Governor is Forcing Fight.

Act may Compel Commoner's Support of Hitchcock.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The name of Edward L. Edwards, Governor of New Jersey, is to be filed with Nebraska's Secretary of State within the next few days as a candidate for President, and a vigorous effort is to be made to secure an instruction for him from Democrats of the State. The speedy filing of Gov. Edwards' petition is intended to force a double purpose, that of humiliating William J. Bryan, who has undertaken to read Edwards out of the party, and to compel the Nebraska commoners to support of Senator Hitchcock, his ardent political foe. Democratic National Committee member Muller is doing all he can to prevent the filing of Edwards' petition, not because he is averse to the New Jersey Governor, but because he believes it will divide wet Democratic votes between Edwards and Hitchcock and thus permit a dry candidate, perhaps Wilson, to secure the delegates.

WILSON HALO TWISTED.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

ATLANTIC CITY, Feb. 20.—A Republican State Senator from Mercer county, which embraces Princeton, the home of President Wilson, is the opening of the New Jersey Legislature introduces a resolution congratulating Mr. Wilson upon his recovery and wishing him continued good health.

The resolution was to have been passed at this week's session of the Legislature, for both Republicans and Democrats were in favor of it. But as a result of Mr. Wilson's controversy with Secretary Lansing the resolution was sewed up in the committee.

"I introduced the resolution as the representative of the President's recovery," said Col. Smith, "and I believe I thought it would be a nice testimony. But his actions in the Lansing matter have caused me to revise some of my opinions of Mr. Wilson, and so far as I am concerned the resolution is a dead issue."

BOOTS LOWDEN STOCK.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Platform of candidates and potential candidates for President being the order of the day created by the recent meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers and the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Gov. Lowden of Illinois is on public record as having said, before the country than any other candidate in either party who is being mentioned for President this year," said Col. Smith, "and I believe he has no fear of issues. If they arise, there is a cause, and if there is a sufficient cause there is a reason why he should be elected."

Mr. Smith was unable to state the Governor's position on the question of universal military training.

SUPPORTS WOOD.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, one time a strong supporter of the Wilson administration, and one of the best-known railroad men in the country, has come out for Maj. Gen. Wood for the Republican Presidential nomination, in a letter made public here today.

DENY PASSPORT
TO AMERICANS?

Our Consuls Refused Him,
Says Tampico Farmer.

He Told Them He Wanted to Testify on Mexico.

Entered this Country by Walking Across Laredo Bridge.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Statements that American consular representatives in Mexico recently had refused him passports to re-enter this country to present testimony regarding the Mexican situation were made by William A. Horton today before the Foreign Relations Committee investigating the Mexican situation.

Mr. Horton, who said he was an American farmer from the Tampico district in Mexico, asserted that early in February he had applied at the Tampico Consulate for an emergency passport to Washington. To prove his American citizenship, he stated, he had shown Claude R. Dawson, United States consular representative at Tampico, an old passport which formerly had been issued him and which had expired.

"Mr. Dawson asked me why I was in such a hurry to go out," Horton testified. "I told him that I was coming to Washington to testify as to conditions in Mexico before the Fall committee. He said: 'I've decided that I won't issue any more emergency passports.'"

After leaving Tampico and while on his way to the border, Horton said, he had applied to Consular Representative Fitzsimmons at Monterrey for a passport.

"I could not get a passport at Monterrey," he asserted. "Mr. Fitzsimmons said 'I have my instructions. I can't issue you one.'"

Proceeding to Nuevo Laredo, Horton declared he had entered the country by simply walking across the international bridge.

Work on Financial Basis is its Avowed Purpose.

Conducted Along Lines of Federal Farm Loan Act.

Seventeen Western States to Be Benefited.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Senator Fletcher of Florida, at the request of development organizations yesterday introduced in the Senate a bill which has for its prime purpose the promotion of reclamation work on a financial basis and conducted on a plan closely akin to the Farm Loan Act. It is of special value to seventeen western States.

The demands of the West have outgrown the present reclamation policy of the government, the Florida Senator said. "At present, $100,000,000 has been expended to date by the government for irrigation projects. This money is being used without interest. It is now being repaid into the reclamation fund, but under the law as last amended, its return is slow."

It is conservatively estimated that an average of $5,000,000 will be available each year for reclamation purposes under existing laws. This amount is wholly inadequate for the needs of seventeen States of the West. It is generally conceded that the government must now co-operate in the utilization of waste lands in other parts of the country, but this cannot be done under the present law.

LOWDEN INSISTS UPON

PEOPLE WHO ARE "CITIZENS OF THE WORLD" ARE INVIT-ED TO MOVE ALONG.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

HURON (S. D.) Feb. 20.—America is the land for Americanized people and not for the "internationalist" who has the world as his home, Gov. Lowden told an audience here tonight, as a minor act in his campaign for President at the March primaries.

"Americanization is the most important problem before the people of the United States," Gov. Lowden declared. "Soviet government is an attempt to substitute rule by one class for rule by all the people. If allowed to thrive, it would be fatal to our institutions. The idea of government by class takes different names, and soviet is not the only word which defines it. Sometimes it is the 'internationalist' who has the world as his home, and sometimes the radical socialist who has the world as his home."

The "internationalist," Mr. Lowden declared, was the person who would not acknowledge the existence of the world. He said:

"Those who consider themselves citizens of the world have no home beyond our borders," he added.

ABSENCE OF PRESIDENT
SUBJECT OF NEW BILL.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Representative MacArthur, Republican, Oregon, introduced a bill today, proposing that thirty consecutive days' absence from continental United States or disabling illness for a like period on the part of the President would cause the Vice-President to assume the duties of the office. The measure would become effective March 4, 1921.

SERMONS ON PATRIOTISM.

Washington's Birthday Services in Many Churches; Topics for Tomorrow.

Many of the Los Angeles pastors will preach tomorrow on the birthday of Washington and on patriotism. Dr. Locke of the First Methodist Church will not only talk of the nation's first President, but will undertake to name the next one. At Temple Baptist Church there will be special patriotic and memorial services, with members of the Grand Army and American Legion in attendance.

The subject of divine healing will be discussed in a large number of pulpits tomorrow, not only in a general way, but with specific reference to the recent visit here of James Moore Hickson, Episcopal layman.

"OUR NEXT PRESIDENT."
FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.
Who was the first President of the United States? Every school child in America can answer that question correctly. Who will be the successor of Woodrow Wilson? It is doubtful if the wisest man in the world could tell. However, this subject will form the theme of Dr. Charles Edward Locke's sermon at the First Methodist Church, tomorrow evening, when Dr. Locke will preach on "The First President of America—and Who will be the Next One?" In this sermon Dr. Locke promises to give the names of the birthplaces of the next Chief Executive of the nation. The sermon will be preceded by a patriotic musical programme. A feature of the evening worship will be an address by Mrs. J. T. Anderson on "How to Make the High out of the Low." In the morning Dr. Locke will preach on "Some Great Small Things."

"ABOLISHING DEATH."
FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
Accepting the invitation of Dr. Carl S. Patton, Rev. Holland F. Burr, director of religious education, will preach at the First Congregational Church, tomorrow morning, on the subject "A Paradox of the Christian Life." In the evening Dr. Patton will deliver a sermon on the theme, "The Abolishing of Death," in which he will present Basil King's views on this vital question. A feature of the evening service will be the rendition of Schubert's "Faith in Spring," by Mrs. Ruzena Sprout. Next Thursday evening Rabbi Isidore Meyer will give a lecture on the subject, "Did the Jews Crucify Jesus?"

FOR THOSE WHO DIED.
TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.
To celebrate the birthday of Washington and to honor the memory of the young men of California who gave their lives in the cause of liberty in the great war, a special patriotic and memorial service will be held at Temple Baptist Church, tomorrow evening. Members of the American Legion and of the various Grand Army posts will be in attendance, and memorial certificates, issued by the French government in honor of the American soldiers who died in the battles of France, will be distributed to the relatives of Southern California heroes who gave their lives overseas. The flag of the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Regiment will be displayed from the pulpit. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brounger will preach on "Uncle Sam in Christian Clothes." In the morning Dr. Brounger will preach his second sermon on "Healing and Prayer," the special topic being "The Prayer of Faith—What is It?"

THE CHURCH AND HEALING.
IMMANUEL PRESBYTERIAN.
Dr. Charles L. Thompson of New York, one of the traveling secretaries of the Presbyterian board of home missions, will deliver a patriotic sermon, tomorrow morning, at Immanuel Presbyterian Church. Dr. Thompson was moderator of the great assembly of reunion at the time the Cumberland Presbyterian Church came back into the Presbyterian church, from which it had separated in 1810. Tomorrow evening Dr. Herbert Booth Smith will deliver the fourth sermon in his series on "Prayer and Healing," the topic for tomorrow being "How can the Church Practice Christian Healing?" Dr. Smith said, yesterday, that if the church goes into the matter of healing it must have a clearly-defined idea of the method to be employed.

"PRAYER AND FIXED LAWS."
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.
Apropos the subject of "faith healing," and kindred themes, Dr. James A. Francis, in his sermon at the First Baptist Church, tomorrow evening, will discuss the question, "What can Prayer do in a World of Fixed Laws?" At the morning service Dr. Francis will preach on "The Church I Would Seek if I were a Layman." The auditorium Bible class will be held tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon and lasting until 10 p.m.

"WHERE ARE THE DEAD?"
WILSHIRE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.
"Where are the dead? What is their condition? Are they in a condition of rest? Or are they in a state of torment?" These are some of the questions which Dr. Howard Fagan, in a sermon, tomorrow evening, at the Wilshire-boulevard Christian Church. Mr. Fagan's subject for the morning discourse will be "Seven Reasons for Christian Unity," and Wilshire church will have a special service of $5, $10 and $20 to those who give to the C. O. Goodwin's Sunday-school class who write the best essays on the pastor's sermon.

TO DISCUSS HICKSON.
WESTLAKE PRESBYTERIAN.
A discussion of the interpretation which Christians should put upon the healings now being effected by the Episcopal layman, James Moore Hickson, will be incorporated in a sermon by Dr. G. A. Briegleb at the Westlake Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening, when Dr. Briegleb will preach on the subject, "What Am I to Believe Concerning the Devil?" Among the questions which Dr. Briegleb will ask, and answer according to his own convictions, will be the following: "Does the devil ever heal the human body?" "Were not Christ's healings instantaneous?" "If the devil has power to afflict the body, as is evident from scripture, has he not also the right to heal and raise the body?" "What shall we do in regard to the claims of Christian Science?" "To what agency shall we attribute the phenomena attached to that movement?" "Is there any ground for believing that there is divine healing promised in the atonement of Christ?" In his morning discourse Dr. Briegleb will discuss the question, "What do you think about other folk and what do other folk think about you?"

"DISMISSAL OF LANSING."
WESTLAKE METHODIST.
"Would Washington summarily dismiss Lansing, as did President Wilson? Was Washington, a Christian? Would the Father of his country consider the League of Nations an 'entangling alliance'?" Did God come to interest Himself in American Presidents at the death of Washington? Would Jesus approve of patriotic sentimentality? These are some of the questions to be discussed by Rev. Thomas O. Grieson and members of his congregation at the Westlake Methodist Episcopal Church tomorrow. The entire day will be given to a patriotic programme. In the morning J. O. Grieson will preach on "Washington, God's Pivot" and in the evening he will talk on "Washington and Americanism." Friday morning and Friday night Leon Rice will give free concerts at the church.

"ARMENIA'S TRAGEDY."
TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH.
Complying with the request of Herbert Hoover and local leaders of the Near East Relief movement, Dr. C. C. Sealeman will preach on "The Tragedy of Armenia" at the Trinity Methodist Church tomorrow morning. At the close of the sermon a collection will be taken for the relief of Armenia.

PLENTY OF ROOM.

California will be entitled to 140 delegates to the next prohibition National Convention, which will be held at Lincoln, Neb. Anybody want to go?

RATHER BORING.

There ought to be enough idle corkscrews at the Union League Club to bore that Second-street tunnel without boring the rest of the community with the details of the contract.

JUST JESTURES.

Papers in Holland refer to the Crown Prince's offer to surrender himself to the Allies as "a beautiful gesture." That is about what it was. The Prince was merely waving his hand at himself.

MUCH AHEAD.

Looks as if this government were a continuous performance. It is now reported that the government has 170,000 draft dodgers yet to be prosecuted. It will be a long time before the courts run out of business at that rate.

BETTER FIXED.

There seems no hesitation in saying that the men who leave the President's Cabinet all appear to be getting better jobs. It would seem that even Burleson might be willing to take a chance on the magnificent resources of Texas.

CAR FAIR, PLEASE.

Chicago people must continue to pay a seven-cent street car fare on the surface lines and eight cents on the elevated. The State Supreme Court holds that these rates are just and the United States Commission has the right and power to determine, in spite of local franchises or understandings. Los Angeles is becoming almost lonesome as the home of the nickel ride.

WANT ACTION.

The League of Women Voters adopted a resolution calling for the immediate ratification of the League of Nations covenant. They do not even ask for reservations. They struck out the clause recognizing the possible advantage of interpretations and called for instant action. There is no room for misunderstanding the women of America, nor has there ever been doubt concerning their attitude toward the covenant.

MASTERING THE EMOTIONS.

At the height of the rush hour an anger-crazed Italian created a panic in a downtown crowd by firing into the throng, killing his room-mate and injuring a passer-by. Because he allowed his emotions to control his mind the Italian will be charged with murder and, regardless of how the trial may terminate, he will suffer long for his momentary folly. In a lesser degree almost all of us are guilty of the same brand of folly so definitely exemplified by this criminal. All emotions are transmutable and hate can be turned into love or love into hate by the manipulation of the motive power which exists in every human brain. It is for each individual to determine whether he will let his imagination and passion master him or whether he will master them. The author of "Proverbs" says: "He that is hasty to anger exalteth folly."

TELLING HOW.

Gov. Lowden blames much of the national unrest and lolly lying on the high taxes—Federal, State and local. The excess profits taxes taken by the government spread out into almost every conceivable transaction. The administration speaks carelessly of billions and then reaches out with steel fingers to seize them and our whole conception of finance starts out from an unnatural and extravagant basis. For two successive years Gov. Lowden managed to reduce the rate of tax in his own State. In spite of the heavy cost of materials and emergency needs. This has been a great stabilizer in business and has been a whole-some stimulant to production. No other State in the Union was able to bring about a reduction and Gov. Lowden feels that no great progress can be made in saving money and reducing costs until the people's government does a little pioneering along these lines.

INSURGENTS IN SERGE.

The many women who comprise the membership of the National League of Women Voters are, from the nature of things, strong for the participation of their sex in politics, but almost without exception they are opposed to the creation of a woman's party. They will line up with their husbands and sisters with the old parties. They may want a new skirt and hat every spring, but the old party will do to work with. The women are not standing pat, however. The party must represent something or else they will make it do so. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt made every woman promise when she left the league convention that she would not vote a ticket that had not been considered by her intelligence and ratified by her conscience. The ladies are determined not to be "regular." The candidate or party must represent something which appeals to them else it cannot qualify for their support. There will be a lot of insurgents in serge before this thing is over.

THE THORKILDSEN CASE.

Judge Works seems to have achieved the impossible in his decision in the bitterly-fought Thorkildsen divorce case; he has apparently pleased both sides.

Both parties must be glad to be divorced, as the idea of any mutual tie had become intolerable and they could not possibly live together. While deprecating the extent and harmfulness of the divorce evil, The Times believes that a legal divorce is advisable under such circumstances as these—better than loose relations in defiance of law. Now the Thorkildsens, man and woman, are as happy as they can be after what has happened, for each is rid of the other. She can seek No. 2 and Tom can try No. 4.

As for the monetary adjustment, the casual observer would say that, while Mrs. Thorkildsen got only one-tenth of what she sought, she did fairly well; and Mr. Thorkildsen, indeed, got out of it cheaply. Then why should not each be satisfied on this score?

When it comes to the community in general, the judgment must be that the community is better off for this judicial and judicious ending of a family row. It was a shocking trial, full of revelations of depravity. "Can such things be?" readers asked as they held their breath. Of course, there was a lot of obvious lying. Some of the things narrated could not and cannot be. The most impressive lesson of the trial is the holiness of wealth when it is unaccompanied by real refinement. The home life of the Thorkildsens was exactly the reverse of what home life should be—and with all their money and all their champagne and all their sumptuous appetites, they feasted mostly on the cup of bitterness. Such a home life could not continue and it is best for the social fabric that it has been legally broken up.

If a rich young couple should be tempted to spend their income on a fast and furious life with the idea that therein happiness and pleasure are to be found, a perusal of the Thorkildsen case would be the most convincing evidence to the contrary. The trial must have a far-reaching effect in bringing home, in wavering minds and hearts, the conviction that the one best way to live is to live in accord with the laws of God and man.

Who would care to pay the price for all the "good times" the Thorkildsens had? The disclosures of this unprecedentedly sensational and unclean case have evoked a new and needed disgust for the "fast set" which it richly deserves.

TRIANGULAR FINANCE.

After fifteen months of peace the solution of the many problems left in the wake of the war seems as far away as when the first Allied Council met in Paris. Difficulties have not diminished; they have obstinately increased.

As has been the case after all great wars, the financial readjustments are the cause of the heaviest troubles and perplexities. Mr. Hoover, than whom no man has declared unambiguously that any extension of war-bondage and war-incurred debts of Europe will only tend to pauperize them and to postpone that increase in production through which alone they can hope to rehabilitate themselves.

What they need is food to strengthen them for their tasks and raw materials to restore their disorganized industries. But the European nations have no ready money with which to buy these necessities. The world cannot exist half on charity and half on benevolence. Their currency is depreciating and only increased production can restore it. They must have those first necessities to production which the war has destroyed. What is to be done?

Statesmen, diplomats, politicians have labored with the problem and given birth to no practical suggestion. As has been the case in all national and international crises, the relief will finally come through the team brain work of financiers and business men. The business brains of North and South America have already concentrated on the European muddle and at least one practical suggestion has resulted from their deliberations.

The Pan-American Financial Conference held in Washington during the third week in January did not attract the same public attention as the more sensational show in the Senate chamber or the more spectacular performances in London and Paris. At this Pan-American conference there were no international headlines, no political stars to talk to the gallery rather than to the purpose. Leading financiers and business men of the twenty-one republics of the Western Hemisphere gathered on a friendly and significant mission to discuss the betterment of trade and commerce, among the American nations and practical measures of relief for the war-broken world in general.

In a quiet and sober fashion the Pan-American conference did some excellent economic building for the welfare of our own continent. It also found time to deal with Europe. It evolved a new financial scheme that the diplomats, busied with the reconciling of the irreconcilable, may refuse to investigate, but which is the most sensible attempt yet made to get the unfortunate Europeans back where they belong.

This proposal took the form of a financial triangle. Before the war Europe acted largely as the financier of Latin America. Many of the southern republics were heavily in debt to Europe. Today Europe needs the foodstuffs and raw materials that South America has in abundance. Europe wants more loans to buy these necessities and the United States is the only country in shape to supply them. Dr. Jose Tejada of Argentina proposes that relief for Europe be given by the United States through the medium of loans to South America. The proceeds to be used to pay the debts of these countries to Europe in the form of foodstuffs and other commodities.

This arrangement would supply the immediate and pressing wants of Europe, would not impair the finances of South America and would transfer their debt from Europe to the United States. The security furnished for the loan would be better than any she could find in Europe, being guaranteed by the resources of rich and undeveloped terrain thousands of square miles in extent, unexplored, peaceful and progressive governments.

If Europe is really looking for supplies and raw materials through which to earn a new lease of industry—and not credits for superlatives and fresh aggrandizements—she should be well content to obtain these necessities by freeing the South American countries from the ancient debt through which she has so long held them in financial leading strings.

Pan-America would certainly benefit by this triangular financial adjustment. It might set a precedent for confining in the future New World debts and credits to nations already in other respects detached from Old World systems by the operation of the Monroe Doctrine. Thus a more solid union of all the peoples inhabiting the Western Hemisphere would be America's reward for the chivalrous part she played in going to the rescue of Old World democracies.

But the money necessary to start this project in motion should be raised through financial channels independent of government sources. Our government has no surplus money on hand. It ran short more than $1,000,000,000 last year, and an even greater deficit now threatens. Under such conditions the United States government would do better to first pay its own debts to its own people. If it did so they would have enough to make a substantial loan to South American republics and to spare. The policy of taxing the citizens of one country and lending money so secured to the government of another country may be expedient in times of great stress, but continued it would mean a ruinous financial system.

Besides, if our government has any money to loan, it would do well to lend it to some of its own citizens to enable them to pay their Federal taxes.

LEGALIZED ROBBERY.

State Controller Chambers has written an open letter to Hon. David S. Houston, Secretary of the United States Treasury, making a pertinent protest against the present confusing and unjust system of collecting State and Federal inheritance taxes. His arraignment of the present system, leading at times to a quadruple taxation of an estate, is one that should receive serious consideration; for, under the multiple system now practiced, the whole of an estate can be eaten up by the different inheritance taxes. In this relation Mr. Chambers writes:

The matter of double taxation, first, by a State and, second, by the Federal government and, as frequently happens, by several States, thus bringing about treble and even quadruple taxation, is a rank injustice to the estates. In the name of fairness such a situation should be broken up. The confusion now existing and the friction that follows serves to increase the unpopularity of laws calling for the taxation of inheritances, leads to evasion and in the long run to a very considerable loss of money upon the part of all the taxing powers concerned.

Incomes and inheritances have been seized upon by the politicians, both State and Federal, as fruitful sources of tax revenue. As there is nothing in the United States Constitution to forbid duplicate taxation and as each State is permitted to make its own revenue laws, a condition has come to pass in which incomes and inheritances are often taxed out of existence. California levies no tax on incomes, except in the case of public service corporations, but it makes up with one of the highest inheritance tax rates on record. The Federal government began taxing inheritances during the war; and there is small prospect that the habit will be abandoned. Under the tax laws of certain States inheritances in other States can be taxed. The injustice is apparent; but no State is willing to give way to other States or to the Federal government and the quadruple taxation continues.

Mr. Chambers suggests that there should be a Federal law making for an equitable taxation of inheritances among the different States; and that there should also be separation of estates to be taxed by the Federal government and by the different States. He arrives at the conclusion that the United States government should be alone authorized to tax inheritances valued at more than $100,000 and that the State should alone tax estates below the $100,000 mark. It is apparent that the States would get the better of that arrangement; but it will be recognized that Mr. Chambers was simply naming a tentative figure to open negotiations.

Some of the inheritance rates in California are ridiculously high; so high that they cause the State to lose revenue. Wealthy persons are chary about establishing a residence here by reason of these excessive inheritance taxes. At the last session of the Legislature Mr. Chambers suggested that some of the rates should be lowered, showing by the experience of the inheritance tax department that the high rates were depriving the State of revenue it would otherwise receive. But the Legislature did not go deep enough into the question to find that a moderate rate, like a moderate tariff, would produce much more revenue than a prohibitive rate. So the high rates still stand, costing the State about $1,000,000 annually and keeping people of means away from California.

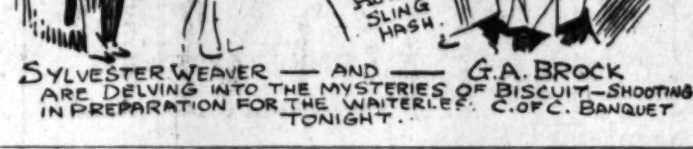

Piling the Federal inheritance taxes on top of the taxes levied by the States is rank injustice. It is time for the different State governments to take the question up and hold some kind of conference for the purpose of securing an adjustment between the States and the Federal government. A continuation of the present plan is little short of downright robbery.

TREMENDOUS.

There are more motor vehicles registered in California than in the entire continent of Europe and considerably over one-half the number are in Southern California. Is it any wonder that official heads are grooving in this section trying to grapple with traffic problems? This State has a car for every 6.54 persons and buying is still going on almost as fast as machines can be brought here. Figures prepared by a large rubber company show that 1919 was a wonder year as far as automobiles are concerned. When the year ended there were no fewer than 7,500,000 motor vehicles registered in the United States. These figures, striking as they are, tell the main cause for the evil times which have come upon so many street and interurban electric lines. Motor trucks and motor busses have made great inroads into the business of the trolley companies. California registrations for last year are given as 441,101 motor vehicles of all kinds. This is an increase of over 100,000 as compared with the previous year, when the number was 337,878. The figures are evidence of the great prosperity which the State enjoyed in 1919 and of the tendency toward the further use of the gasoline motor.

As far as the number of machines is concerned California stands fourth in the list of States. New York, of course, is the leader, with a total of 600,000 vehicles, which is only 160,000 more than this State possessed at the end of last year. Ohio is second with 511,500, and Illinois third with 478,450. As far as density of distribution is concerned, Iowa takes the lead, with California a close second. The figures relating to the automobile industry are really colossal, especially when it is remembered that twenty years ago it was thought that only plutocrats could afford machines.

Nut Crop Report.

Representative Randall of California is a prohibitionist and a Democrat. Speaking of the news print shortage he suggested that the situation might be remedied if all the newspapers would "refuse to accept cigarette advertising and thus save paper." THE TIGHT WADS.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

"What does that represent?" asked

I of the Old Resident as he was deftly shining the face of a new button he was wearing in the lapel of his coat. "Is that a hero medal you got from Secretary Daniels for losing your reputation at the Elks' picnic, or are you buying an extra pair of pants on the installment plan?"

"That little button is a symbol," replied the pioneer, impressively. "Looks simple enough, but you never can tell," retorted I. "I used to think that picking up the right walnut shell was quite simple, but they tell me that there is quite a knack in it."

"I said it was a symbol," replied the old man, testily. "I heard you at the little time, continuing that if a button would like that is a symbol, what would a safety pin be? An emblem?"

"Of the closed bar, yes," returned the veteran. "But don't you want to join me?"

"Give me that you wear the button for," exclaimed I, curiously. "Do you have to have a password to buy buttermilk in these days? Does that 'T.W.O.' and the hand-squeezing eagle mean that two of us can get in on a cocktail?"

"Forget it," exclaimed the old-timer, peevishly. "I am only asking you to join our new league—the Tight Wad. Organize. That's what the initials stand for, but they also mean that it takes two to make a bargain. Under the rules a member is forbidden from buying anything unless some other member agrees with him that the purchase is necessary. I may think I want to buy a paper to read on the way home, so I hail a fellow-member and explain my position to him. Maybe he'll say: 'Nothing doing. You can't read, or else he'll give me part of his paper. In any event, we'll save a few pennies between us. I can't buy a silk shirt unless some kind friend agrees with me that I need one, and when I go into the grill with my mouth fixed for ham and eggs some fellow-Tight Wad may make me get along with a couple of dog biscuits. The other day I wanted to get some amber beads for a poor girl I knew, but when I stood up at her house I had a dozen cabbage plants and a can-opener. Every member I met insisted that the amber beads were not necessary and that the cabbage plants would not only keep my memory fresh but would serve as a substantial refreshment in the hour of need. Sometimes it is embarrassing, but the idea works out fine."

"For the love of Laura," exclaimed I, in amazement. "I never expected to see the day when you would not only join the misers' union, but learn to gloat over it. What do you do when your movie queen wants her square and champagne in a camoufled deshabille?"

"Make 'em join," responded the veteran, confidentially. "Do you know they're not so bad when you get to know 'em well. There's many a black skirt-covers a lovely lady. The other day I was out with Dixie Eagle and I made her a member of the Tight Wads first so that between us we could get what we wanted. When I gave her the password and obligation she grinned and said: 'Now that I've got you where I want you I might as well tell you that we are going into this next dairy lunch and hook up to a fried-egg sandwich. Next to a plate of waffles and maple syrup it is my favorite form of entertainment.' So we went to it. We had just as much nourishment and conversation and saved about four dollars in money. There's fun as well as profit in being a Tight Wad."

"I never expected to see them with my own eyes," continued I, in surprise. "I can't believe there is such an animal yet."

"Of course you can't," exclaimed the old man. "You're like all the rest. Stick out your pocketbook—I mean your tongue. I know it. You're like all of 'em. You have that flushed feeling with red spots in the front of the eyes and pay days. You're always craving something and don't know what it is. You are restless and dissatisfied. You want more room, more breathing space. You want a larger house and a bigger car. You know you had cash onces scribbled—it is in cactuses expendi. You are suffering from the spendthrift's itch."

"Spenders' itch?" exclaimed I, curiously. "What is that like?"

"What I have said," answered the veteran. "It is a cross between St. Vitus dance and king's evil."

"I'm glad it isn't the milk leg," retorted I. "But do you mean to intimate that I have been consorting with coolies?"

"Worse than that," responded the pioneer. "You have become infested with barnacles and parasites. You are suffering from expensitis and it may be necessary for the surgeon to remove your numismatic nerve."

"Say not so," exclaimed I, apprehensively. "They'll be wanting to cancel my life insurance next. What must I do for it besides handing all my money to the doctor?"

"There is still time, however," answered the old gentleman, cheerfully. "You must learn to live the simple life. By joining the Tight Wads you will learn that there is as much satisfaction in finding new ways of saving money as there is in developing old ones for spending it."

Chapter Two
The Founding of a Business

—How many are there today who can look back upon the early days of Los Angeles, when this city was a mere pueblo as compared with the larger cities of America?

—Those who remember these days will remember, also, that the business of Los Angeles was transacted in the locality of the Old Plaza district.

—So that in 1896, when The Broadway first opened its doors at Fourth and Broadway, it was said to be "way out in the country."

—The small, unpretentious 25-foot front enclosed within its four walls a coming business:

—a business that was inspired by the ideals of the man who had founded it—a business that grew because of right principles—a business that was soon reaching out, taking in more territory and adding new employees and new features until, in 1905, a new and enlarged Broadway attracted some 53,000 persons to its opening of a larger store—this was our first Fall opening.

—Still the growth continued until, in 1912, we began the erection of the new and greater Broadway that was completed in 1915.

—Now, in 1920—just twenty-four years later—in the month in which the business began, we are about to celebrate

The 24th Anniversary

—of a business that has continued to prosper and grow until, at the present time, we have insufficient space to care for the increasing demands of the many departments.

—This Anniversary will, by means of attractive offerings in new and desirable merchandise, serve to show our appreciation to the Los Angeles public for the patronage that has made possible the success of this business.

New Highway.

The City Council will give serious consideration to a proposal made to it yesterday by the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company, through its president, H. W. Hawley, that may open the way for the Arroyo Seco highway to Pasadena.

The communication presented yesterday proposes that the company will deed to the city, without charge, a long strip of land along the east side of the Arroyo Seco, fifty feet wide, or wider if necessary, for the purpose of creating a boulevard to Pasadena. The company owns or controls the land along the east bank of the Arroyo Seco between Avenues 35 and 57, approximately two miles in length.

The company sets forth that the proposed boulevard would shorten the distance to Pasadena about one mile and would be away from street car lines and railroads, and have only one street crossing, that at Avenue 42.

"In addition to the above," says the proposal, "this company is willing, at its own expense, to furnish all materials except cement and do all of the work to complete a retaining wall on each side of the Arroyo Seco between Avenues 25 and 35."

"We are also willing, at our own expense, to furnish all materials, including cement, to do all the work necessary to build a wall of sufficient strength and height along the west bank from Sycamore Grove to the end of our property at Avenue 57. The east bank along the proposed boulevard is already protected by the hillside, which is of soft sandstone."

This boulevard has been talked of for a long time, but never before has anyone offered to give the WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Congressman Osborne sent a telegram to Frank Wiggin, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, today announcing the decision of the director of census relative to the extension requested by civic organizations of Los Angeles. Director Rogers has advised the Congressman, that Supervisor Dodson fully understands the situation and has been instructed to make such extensions as are necessary for a complete and accurate count.

All photographs of entrants should be sent to 517 Chamber of Commerce.

Girls' Show Today.

With the goal of $50,000 set for the sum total of the first four days of the Y.W.C.A. campaign and $34,000 as the amount reported for the first three days of the campaign, workers congregated at yesterday's luncheon, at the Third-and-Hill-street building, expressed an optimism seldom equaled in any Los Angeles campaign.

The Hollywood Woman's Club team, which is No. 5 of the first division of workers, again won the distinction of being not only the winning team of the first division for two days in succession, but of reporting the largest amount reported for Friday. The captain of the team is Mrs. E. P. Boardman, whose report for Thursday was $1006, and for yesterday, $1900.

A surprise for today's luncheon, which will be held at 1:30 in the association dining-room, is promised when a report will be given by the business and professional women's teams. The film and Wallace Reid jazz band entertainment, which has been planned by the girls reserves for this afternoon and evening, promises to bring a goodly sum into the campaign fund.

The teams of the first division made the following reports: No. 1, $125; No. 2, $111; No. 3, $1900; No. 4, $20; No. 5, $159; No. 6, $1200; No. 7, $125; No. 8, $27; No. 9, $125; No. 10, $27; No. 11, the first team of the second division, $33.50; No. 12, $145; No. 13, $85; No. 14, $425; No. 15, $87; No. 16, $587; No. 17, $76.50; No. 18, $30; No. 19, $146; No. 20, $479. The first division of the executive committee reported $1239 and the second division, $935.

PRISONERS PROTEST.

Hoot When One of Their Number is

An outburst of hoots, yells and pounding on metal followed the action yesterday of J. B. Lovin, turnkey in the County Jail, in putting Gus Davis, accused burglar, in the dungeon. Davis refused to go into his cell when told to do so and the punishment followed. The outburst of protest of other prisoners in Tank 7 and three other tanks was quickly quelled when Turnkey Lovin got a hose ready to douse the recalcitrant prisoners.

The teams of the first division made the following reports: No. 1, $125; No. 2, $111; No. 3, $1900; No. 4, $20; No. 5, $159; No. 6, $1200; No. 7, $125; No. 8, $27; No. 9, $125; No. 10, $27; No. 11, the first team of the second division, $33.50; No. 12, $145; No. 13, $85; No. 14, $425; No. 15, $87; No. 16, $587; No. 17, $76.50; No. 18, $30; No. 19, $146; No. 20, $479. LEASE THE CITY'S CEMENT PLANT.Portland Capitalists in Deal that may Mean Purchase.Plan Manufacture of Potash for Use as Fertilizer.Shipbuilder Heads Concern that Makes Big Deal.

Lease of the city-owned cement plant at Monolith to syndicates of Portland capitalists, represented by Fred A. Ballin, president of the Supply-Ballin Shipbuilding Company and Ballin Water Works Company, for a term of five years, with the stipulation that the concern is to make a bid for the purchase of the mill at the end of one year, was authorized yesterday by the Board of Public Service Commissioners. The plant will be used for the manufacture of potash to be sold for fertilizer.

The deal was closed yesterday when the commission adopted the report of the committee of the whole, which was favorable to Mr. Ballin's proposition. Special Counsel W. B. Mathews was instructed to prepare the necessary contract. Mr. Ballin stated that his syndicate already have engineers designing special machinery, which will be installed in the course of a few weeks.

According to the terms of the agreement the Portland concern is to lease the plant for a period of five years on the basis of 3 per cent. of the value placed upon it by the commission—$450,000. It is to make two yearly payments in advance at the rate of $22,500 a year, and after having the property one year it is to make a bid for the purchase of the plant for the sum of $450,000.

If it is the successful bidder the amount paid for the use of the mill for the second year will be deducted from the purchase price. It is understood that the company is to spend $150,000 in equipping the plant for the manufacture of potash. One thousand acres of land adjacent to the mill have been leased, and the mill itself will be made to be drawn from these lands.

It was announced yesterday that Mr. Ballin's principal associates will be Coy Burnett of Portland, and Aman Moore of 1808 Whitley avenue, Hollywood. Moore, who was one of the promoters of the Oregon-Portland Cement Company, Oswego, is to manage the enterprise.

TO INCREASE TONNAGE
FOR FOREIGN TRADE.PLAN FOR $5,000,000 BOND SALE
DISCUSSED AT MEET-ING HERE.

Should the plans laid out by the World Trade, an organization of this city, be successful, the present steamship lines running from this port will be greatly increased to carry on the foreign trade of the Southwest. At a meeting Thursday night at the Mission Cafe, which was attended by representatives of many of the leading firms of the city, the proposition was discussed to float, by popular subscription, $5,000,000 in bonds to provide the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company with ample tonnage to take care of the local business.

Many of the men interested in foreign trade attended the meeting and voiced their approval of the plan. This city will co-operate with San Diego in bringing business to this part of the State, and it is planned to make this section an important figure in the oriental trade.

A general resume of the situation now faced by local merchants in other countries was given and suggestions made to bring the business to this city. Market conditions in Latin and South American countries were reviewed.

Leo Chandler of the Home Savings Bank spoke on the need of additional publicity of Southern California in foreign lands. Leslie Monks of the Wilshire Oil Company and Mr. Beesmyer of the Gilmore Oil Company told of the large export business now being done by local concerns. Other speakers were O. T. Helping of San Diego, who is making arrangements to start a similar organization there; H. O. Larrick of San Diego and Donald MacKenzie of Sydney, Australia. Mr. Larrick stated that his company is erecting a hardwood box factory in Mexico to build packing cases for foreign shipments.

DEATH ALTERS WILL.

Woman Wants Money to go to Husband; Dies Unwed.

Miss Margaret Hamilton, who died last February 12, at Columbus, O., left an estate of $100,000, according to a will filed for probate yesterday. Provision is contained in the will, made January 6, 1919, if she should marry thereafter, her entire estate should go to her husband and if there were any children the estate should be apportioned equally to the husband and children. She was not married and the estate, according to other provisions, will go to relatives and friends, an uncle, Charles C. Huston of San Francisco, receiving the residue. Fred W. Kealey and Lucien Gray are attorneys for the estate.

Man of Many Names Arrested on Forgery Charge.

William Alex. Palso, who is said to have thirteen aliases, is charged in two counts of a complaint issued yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Becker, with forgery. He is accused of forging the name of T. Otto Flak to checks for $25 and $25, and of cashing one at a local bank and a check of $1000 at a grocery store. The detective asserts that he has passed at least nine forged checks in this city.

Garners Princely Wage.

Here is a brand new sort of thief. He steals the gasoline from parked cars. He operates with a home-made truck and confines his activity to the best residential districts. His trade is piled chiefly when less busy people are at dinner or on visits. His methods are scientific—the last word in accomplished larceny. And his profits are conservatively estimated at $30 an hour. Even in these days of high prices that is not bad compensation for an enterprising and hard-working law-breaker.

Out in the region of the Hollywood foothills where people of some means have their homes, the dinner hour ordinarily finds the wily thief lined up with motor cars. People who are calling, the man just home from business and other unsuspecting persons leave their automobiles standing for a time in the street. It is after dark; the stage is all set for the most modern thief. He drives a small car with a homemade truck body. It is loaded with five-gallon cans and a six-foot length of rubber hose. The gasoline tank of any likely automobile furnishes everything Mr. Thief needs to complete a perfectly good siphon. One end of the hose goes into a full tank, the other in the tank of the car to be robbed. In five minutes the deed is done.

There is art, however, even in such bald-faced thievery. The thief must be able to start the engine and to remove him from the vicinity where the thief has operated. Then the victim suddenly discovers that his car is without fuel. He suspects a leak, or perhaps wonders whether he forgot to buy gasoline at the proper time. Then he goes to the nearest oil station, invests in ten gallons and perhaps does not even suspect that he is paying more for a member of the international order of larcenists.

So successfully has this little game been worked in Los Angeles that the modus operandi was discovered only by the merest chance. An automobile owner, after having left his car at a curb in Hollywood, returned to it rather hurriedly, after dark. He started away. The car thereupon knocked over a five-gallon can that had been sitting under it. The motorist investigated and found also the six-foot length of hose. His little discovery led to an inquiry that showed the siphon operator has been making something less, in the last few weeks, than a railroad president's salary.

This thief preys on all makes of cars indiscriminately. He even reaches gasoline tanks that are supposedly safe under front seats. And there is good reason to believe that he has bought a new length of hose that siphons just as well as the one he lost.

THIRTEEN ALIASES.

Man of Many Names Arrested on Forgery Charge.

William Alex. Palso, who is said to have thirteen aliases, is charged in two counts of a complaint issued yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Becker, with forgery. He is accused of forging the name of T. Otto Flak to checks for $25 and $25, and of cashing one at a local bank and a check of $1000 at a grocery store. The detective asserts that he has passed at least nine forged checks in this city.

Leo Chandler of the Home Savings Bank spoke on the need of additional publicity of Southern California in foreign lands. Leslie Monks of the Wilshire Oil Company and Mr. Beesmyer of the Gilmore Oil Company told of the large export business now being done by local concerns. Other speakers were O. T. Helping of San Diego, who is making arrangements to start a similar organization there; H. O. Larrick of San Diego and Donald MacKenzie of Sydney, Australia. Mr. Larrick stated that his company is erecting a hardwood box factory in Mexico to build packing cases for foreign shipments.

DEATH ALTERS WILL.

Woman Wants Money to go to Husband; Dies Unwed.

Miss Margaret Hamilton, who died last February 12, at Columbus, O., left an estate of $100,000, according to a will filed for probate yesterday. Provision is contained in the will, made January 6, 1919, if she should marry thereafter, her entire estate should go to her husband and if there were any children the estate should be apportioned equally to the husband and children. She was not married and the estate, according to other provisions, will go to relatives and friends, an uncle, Charles C. Huston of San Francisco, receiving the residue. Fred W. Kealey and Lucien Gray are attorneys for the estate.
